

208. Enlargement or abridgment of time

The court may, in any case in which it shall see fit, extend or abridge the time appointed by the rules or fixed by any order of the court for doing any act or taking any proceeding.